De garto zu beutbas | De dibe k par hie beutbas zu

Handwritten musical notation on a five-line staff, featuring a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The notation includes a series of notes and rests, with a large, ornate initial 'S' at the beginning of the first line.

Below the staff, there is a line of text in a Gothic script, likely a Latin liturgical text. The text is written in black ink and includes the words "Deus" and "patris".

The image shows a page from a medieval manuscript. The top half contains four staves of musical notation in square neumes on a four-line red staff. The notation is written in black ink. Above the first staff, the word "Allegro" is written in red cursive. Above the second staff, the word "Quia" is written in red cursive. Above the third staff, the word "dabo" is written in red cursive. The bottom half of the page features a miniature illustration of a religious procession. On the left, a man in a red tunic and blue hood is kneeling. To his right, a group of men and children are walking. The first man in the group is wearing a green tunic and red hose, carrying a large, ornate, reddish-brown object on a pole. The second man is wearing a blue tunic and red hose, also carrying a pole. Behind them are several children in white tunics and red hose. The procession is led by a man in a white tunic and red hose, carrying a large, ornate, reddish-brown object on a pole. The background is a simple green field.
